

Effective 29 March 2022

Norwegian Fjord Horse Registry (NFHR) Social Media Policy

Not all BOD members and NFHR members participate in social media since it is not an expectation of being on the board or at the core operations of the NFHR.

The NFHR will not be utilizing social media as a primary platform for communication. The NFHR website, postal mailings (including the Herald), board of directors (BOD) meetings (which are open to members), and meeting minutes will serve as the primary forms of communication to the membership.

The NFHR Facebook Page and NFHR Facebook Group Page will be utilized as needed and at the discretion of the page administrators for communication to the membership. The NFHR Facebook Membership Resource Page will serve as a liaison tool. However, if communications from the Resource Page are not directed to the BOD via an email, they will not be acted upon.
